A LOST GIRL COMES HOME.

An affecting meeting between a mother and her daughter, who ran away from home 17 years ago, occurred in the hospital at West Chester, Pa., on Monday. Ada Quinn, whose lover was opposed by her parents and who fled because of it, when a pretty girl of 20, is home, but is only a miserable shadow of her former blooming womanhood.
On Friday afternoon last a strange woman, almost at death's door from starvation and exposure, was admitted to the Chester County Hospital for treatment. When the track hands on the Pennsylvania Railroad were working at a point some distance from Berwyn they heard a weak, plaintive cry emanating from a clump of bushes near the roadside. Going down an embankment to investigate the men were startled to find a woman apparently about 37 years of age in a very weak condition, miserably clad and nearly frozen. The forlorn woman was placed upon the train and sent to West Chester, being admitted to the hospital for treatment upon her arrival. She has recovered sufficiently to state that her name was Addie Quinn, and that she is a daughter of Mrs. Ellen King.
The mother, who resides on south Franklin street, went to see her long-lost daughter. The meeting was touching in the extreme. The girl's life story is romantic.
About 17 years ago this same Miss Addie Quinn, who, as stated above, was a handsome West Chester girl, and had not yet attained her majority, mysteriously disappeared, and her mother was greatly affected over the affair. After waiting some days for her return, she charged an individual then residing at West Chester with having abducted the girl, but, being unable to furnish proof that such was the case, the prosecution was not sustained.
Addie's love affair was known to be the cause of her flight. Where she went she never told her family.
During her long absence her mother eagerly waited from day to day for her return, and each night a light would be left burning dimly in the parlor in anticipation of the girl's reappearance.
Evidently Addie has seen a good deal of the world in her long wanderings, and at last sick and weary, she returned homeward.

IT BROKE HER FATHER'S HEART.—The sequel to the marriage of Commodore Mayo, aged sixty, of Washington, to Miss Jennie Elton Stevens, aged twenty-five, of Waterbury, Conn., is announced in the death of Orville H. Stevens, aged seventy, father of the youthful bride, the result of a broken heart. The marriage, on December 8, 1892, was one of the swell society events of Waterbury, and was followed by a reception at the home of the groom in Washington.
Miss Stevens, naturally of a retiring disposition, was amazed at the glitter and tinsel of Washington society, and she swooned and was carried from her wedding reception. Do what her husband could, she would not be reconciled to her new surroundings, and she stoutly refused to see friends, and grew despondent. Before a month she had returned to Waterbury insane. Her father had been opposed to the match from the start, but others of the family urged the union on account of the alleged wealth and station of the groom. Mr. Stevens, shortly after the return of his daughter, had her removed to a sanitarium. The marriage preyed so on his own mind that a few weeks ago he was forced to seek retirement and rest in a retreat at Wernersville, Pa., where he died. He was one of the best known manufacturers in Connecticut and a prominent society man.

MEDICINAL.

Tired, Weak, Nervous Could Not Sleep.

Prof. L. D. Edwards, of Preston, Idaho, says: "I was all run down, weak, nervous and irritable through overwork. I suffered from brain fatigue, mental depression, etc. I became so weak and nervous that I could not sleep. I would arise tired, discouraged and blue. I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine and now everything is changed. I sleep soundly, I feel bright, active and ambitious. I can do more in one day now than I used to do in a week. For this great good I give Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine the sole credit. It Cures."

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at 25c a bottle for 50c, or it will be sent prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

SPINAL weakness easily cured by Dr. Miles' Nerve Plasters. NEURALGIA cured by Dr. Miles' PAIN Plaster. "One cent a piece." At all druggists.

CATARRH ELY'S CREAM BALM Is quickly absorbed. Cleanses the Nasal Passages. Alleviates Pain and Inflammation. Heals the Sores. Protects the Membrane from additional cold.

Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. It will cure Hay-fever. A particle is applied in each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists or by mail. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren street, New York.
